

Wednesday, June 14

Thursday, June 15

Friday, June 16

Morning Lecture: Claire M. Fagin Hall, Room 203, 418 Curie Blvd.

9:00-10:30

Course Overview and Introductions

Amy Hillier
Penn School of Design

A Population Based Approach to Measuring Emergency Care Outcomes

Brendan Carr
Thomas Jefferson University

GIS, the Environment, and Health Behaviors: Lessons from the Study of Addiction

Jeremy Mennis
Temple University

10:30-10:45

Break

Break

Break

10:45-12:00

Food Access

Amy Hillier
Penn School of Design

Impacting Public Health Policy and Programming in Philadelphia with GIS

Amory Hillengas
Philadelphia Department of Public Health

Measuring Activities Over Location and Time

Doug Wiebe
Penn School of Medicine

12:00-1:00

Lunch Break

Lunch Break

Lunch Break

Afternoon Lab: Undergraduate Data Analysis Laboratory (UDAL), 108 McNeil Building, 3718 Locust Walk

1:00-4:00

ArcView GIS 10 hands-on training

4:00-5:00

Individual technical assistance and lab time

 Building Location  Recommended Entrance

Classroom Directions

Claire M. Fagin Hall, Room 203

The Claire M. Fagin Hall, School of Nursing is located at 418 Curie Blvd. The cross-streets are Guardian Drive/Service Drive and Curie Blvd. Enter through the main entrance and take the elevator to the 2nd floor. Signs will direct you to the classroom.

Undergraduate Data Analysis Laboratory (UDAL), 108 McNeil Building

The McNeil Building is located at 37th and Locust Walk.. Locust Walk is between Walnut and Spruce streets. Enter on Locust Walk and proceed to room 108. Signs will direct you to the classroom.

