

INJURY SCIENCE DAY

UNIVERSITY of PENNSYLVANIA

MARCH 3, 2010

Wednesday, 9am-1pm

Amado Recital Hall

Irvine Auditorium (3401 Spruce St)

Injury and violence are substantial and largely preventable public health problems. Injuries kill more Americans under the age of 35 than all diseases combined. Injury Science Day provides a forum to showcase the latest research about the prevention, control, acute care, and rehabilitation of intentional and unintentional injury.

The day will include:

- 60-second Science led by Vice Provost Fluharty
- Student Poster Competition
- Panel Discussion featuring:
  - Christopher Mallios - former Chief, Sexual Assault and Family Violence Unit, Philadelphia District Attorney's Office
  - Scott Burris - Director, Center for Health Law, Policy and Practice, and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's Public Health Law Research program
  - Carol E. Thornton - Section Chief, Violence and Injury Prevention Program, PA Department of Health

CALL FOR POSTERS All participants are encouraged to submit their recent injury research posters (2009-present). Posters (new or previously presented) by Penn students will be considered for two prizes: $500 for first and $250 for second place.

INJURY SCIENCE COMPENDIUM Anyone who is interested (including non-attendees) may submit recent (2009-present) presentation abstracts to be placed in a compendium of recent Injury Science research. This compendium will be available in hard copy at the event and in digital format online.
