UNNATURAL CAUSES
exploring health equity through the PBS documentary series

Location:
Amado Recital Room, Irvine Auditorium
3401 Spruce Street, on Penn’s campus

To attend any event, RSVP to cphi@pobox.upenn.edu

Bad Sugar
Explores the re-conceptualization of chronic disease as the body’s response to ‘futurelessness’ - a condition arising from decades of oppression and historical trauma.

Shiriki Kumanyika, PhD MPH
Associate Dean Health Promotion
UPenn School of Medicine

Place Matters
Explores the policies and investment decisions that foster neighborhood environments that harm - or enhance - the health of residents, and the local actions that can make a difference.

Amy Hillier, PhD
Assistant Professor
Penn School of Design

Not Just a Paycheck
Explores how employment policy and job insecurity affect health.

Ichiro Kawachi, MD PhD
Professor of Social Epidemiology
Harvard University

Collateral Damage
Explores how US occupation, military policy and globalization impact people’s health, often in unanticipated ways.

Rachel Poulain, MPH
Unnatural Causes Series Associate Producer and Director of Outreach
California Newsreel

For more information about the speaker series visit us online at www.cherp.org or www.cphi.upenn.edu